Dedication

One of the editor's last duties, pleasantly, before dusting his desk and rubbing his hands as he closes the office each spring is writing the yearbook's dedication. Many things come to mind as his fingers grope haltingly about the typewriter keys . . . what faculty member is qualified for the accolade of dedication . . . is there some alum who deserves the honor . . . how about a student . . . or the ex-students now in the service . . . or an outstanding student or group of students . . .?

The calendar on the wall, much marked and tattered with deadlines crossed out or notations scribbled or deadlines checked . . . or too often, unchecked . . . says March. Quite naturally, most of West Texas is blowing by the window. The sand is blowing. Hmmm . . . that seems natural enough. The sand, from the farms whence come the aggies to the campus . . . over the powerlines and roads which the engineers will build . . . into the homes which serve as lab for home ec girls . . . into the labs and class rooms and homes of the arts and science students, making study (or the urge, at least) next to impossible . . . and into the businesses and business majors directly affected by the blowing earth. . . . Yes. That's it. The sand, element universal at Texas Tech, no respecter of persons and impossible to ignore.

So, to you, gentle reader, to you who must suffer the sand each time the wind rises from breeze to furious howl, we dedicate this book in hopes that in future storms its pages will bring a smile and a memory; and simply because we can't ignore it, to the sands, not at, but all over Texas Tech.

Sincerely,

Who's Who In

This year twenty-six Tech students were listed in the national publication, "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities." A committee consisting of both faculty and students considered names submitted by the department heads to the deans of divisions.

Students were considered on the grounds of scholarship, leadership, prospects for future success, service to the college and character. Only juniors and sen-

The Student Council is the official legislative body for Tech students. It is composed of four officers and representatives from the five divisions on the campus. The council holds all elections and disperses with problems which concern the student body as a whole. The group stresses high ideals, good will, and strives for closer relationship between students and administration.

This year, as in past years, the council sponsored the annual Varsity show. In cooperation with the ex-students association, the council sponsored and arranged all Homecoming activities and was in charge of the spring convocation where the Double T letters were awarded.

A dinner was held in April to administer the oath of office to council members for 1951-1952.

highlights

The busy weekend of October 21st came to an end with decoration committees working late into the night, Saddle Tramps gathering kindling for one of the biggest bonfires Tech has ever seen, and everyone anticipating the day of Tech's 26th homecoming.

Other years may come, but it will have to be a year of great potential to beat the 1951 homecoming parade. A. I. M. E. won the prize for the most descriptive float, Las Vivarachas was awarded the prize for the most beautiful float and F. F. A. was selected as winner for the most humorous float.

The Tech Press, under the direction of Benge Daniels, extreme right in the picture on the right, does all of the printing work for Texas Tech except the La Ventana. Tech Press prints the annual catalog, information bulletins for prospective students, and the ex-students' news. They also print the programs for various functions at Tech and the innumerable forms used in registration. This year the Press printed three volumes by Tech professors—Raymond Elliot's "Ears to Hear", "The Mirror of Love" by Alan M. F. Gunn, and "Texas Politics, 1906-1944" by S. S. McKay.

The Double T Association was organized after the first football season following the establishment of Texas Tech in 1925. It is composed solely of athletes who have been awarded the Double "T" by the Athletic Council for competition in an intercollegiate sport. Striving to create unity among the wearers of the college symbol, the members of this group are always on the alert in attempting to advance the causes of athletics at Texas Tech, and it is an organization to which all Red Raiders aspire. The annual semi-formal dance was staged in March and turning from the sublime to the ridiculous, a mock basketball game was staged in the gym by the pledges, dressed as coeds.

Members of the club may be identified by the Double T they wear as watch charms.

Sun Bowl Game

TECH 25, COLLEGE OF PACIFIC 14

It took the Raiders just three plays to inaugurate the COP Tigers to the "Society of Split-T Fearers".

The Tigers, who had never faced a split-T team, were knocked off their pins as the Raiders bowled 63 yards in three plays following the opening kickoff. Turner climaxed the drive with a 39-yard gallop.

Jerry Johnson passed to Crossley for the second tally (a 20-yard toss), Arterburn took a lateral from Cavazos to score from the three and Welton ended Raider scoring from the 11-yard stripe.

It was Tech's first bowl win in the school's 25-year history.

TECH 46, WEST TEXAS 7

The Red Raiders, playing their first game for DeWitt Weaver, steamrolled a hapless WestTex crew 46 to 7.

The Techsans could do no wrong in the initial move towards comeback glory with a bevy of freshmen seeing action against the outmanned Buffaloes.

Jim Turner and Frank Graves tallied two markers apiece with Pete Rinaldi, Jr. Arterburn and Elmer Wilson supplying the remaining points. Wilson's tally came on an electrifying 80-yard punt return.

Diminutive Elmer Wilson is brought down by West Texan after a short pickup.

Alton Linne stops WestTex ballcarrier while Bass, Whitaker and Thompson look on.

TECH 7, TEXAS A&M 20

A Cotton Bowl crowd of 27,000 watched A&M break a 7 to 7 deadlock just six seconds before the half when Cadet Ray Graves went back to pass, changed his mind and threaded his way 53 yards to paydirt for the clinching score.

The Cadets came back after the half to apply the salt with a two-yard plunge by Gardemal.

The Raider counter came when Turner climaxed a six play 46-yard goalward trek with a high stepping 12-yard jaunt. Whitaker added the point by taking a bad pass from center and racing around the left.

Arterburn goes high to break up a Gardemal-to-Hodge pass play.

Arterburn smothers an Aggie goalline fumble to thwart another Cadet drive.

TECH 0, HOUSTON 6

Hot, humid weather and an avalanche of fumbles kept Tech's scoring machine tighter than a drum as the Cougars fumbled their way to a 6 to 0 win over the Raiders at Rice stadium in Houston, Texas.

Houston scored after a Tech fumble set the ball up on the Tech 32-yard line. Gene Shannon took the pigskin all the way on the first play. This was late in the fourth quarter.

Tech's best drive fell three yards short of the double stripe.

Cavazos is brought down by a bevy of Houston defenders.

Houston Cougar Gene Shannon cuts back to avoid O'Grady before being piled up by a hidden Raider.

TECH 33, T.C.U. 19

Tech's red-shirted warriors proved themselves champions in lambasting the Horned Frogs from Fort Worth, 33 to 19. The Frogs went on to win the Southwest Conference title and played Kentucky in the Cotton Bowl classic.

Bobby Cavazos dashed TCU hopes by scoring three times, while Turner scampered 40 yards and Arterburn dashed 11 more for enough tallies to run up a 33 to 0 lead.

The Frogs managed to score three times in the final canto after Weaver had seen fit to insert a freshman lineup.

Bass appears ready to try for a field goal using a TCU ballcarrier's head for the missile.

Horned Frog Gil Bartosh casts a wary eye at Whitaker, who seems elated at the prospect of nailing a genuine All-American prospect. P. S. He did!

Price and O'Grady gang up to drop a Baylorite after a good gain.

TECH 20, BAYLOR 40

All-American Larry Isbell's pin-point precision teamed with a deluge of bad breaks proved too much for the Raiders as they succumbed to their third defeat of the year, 40 to 20.

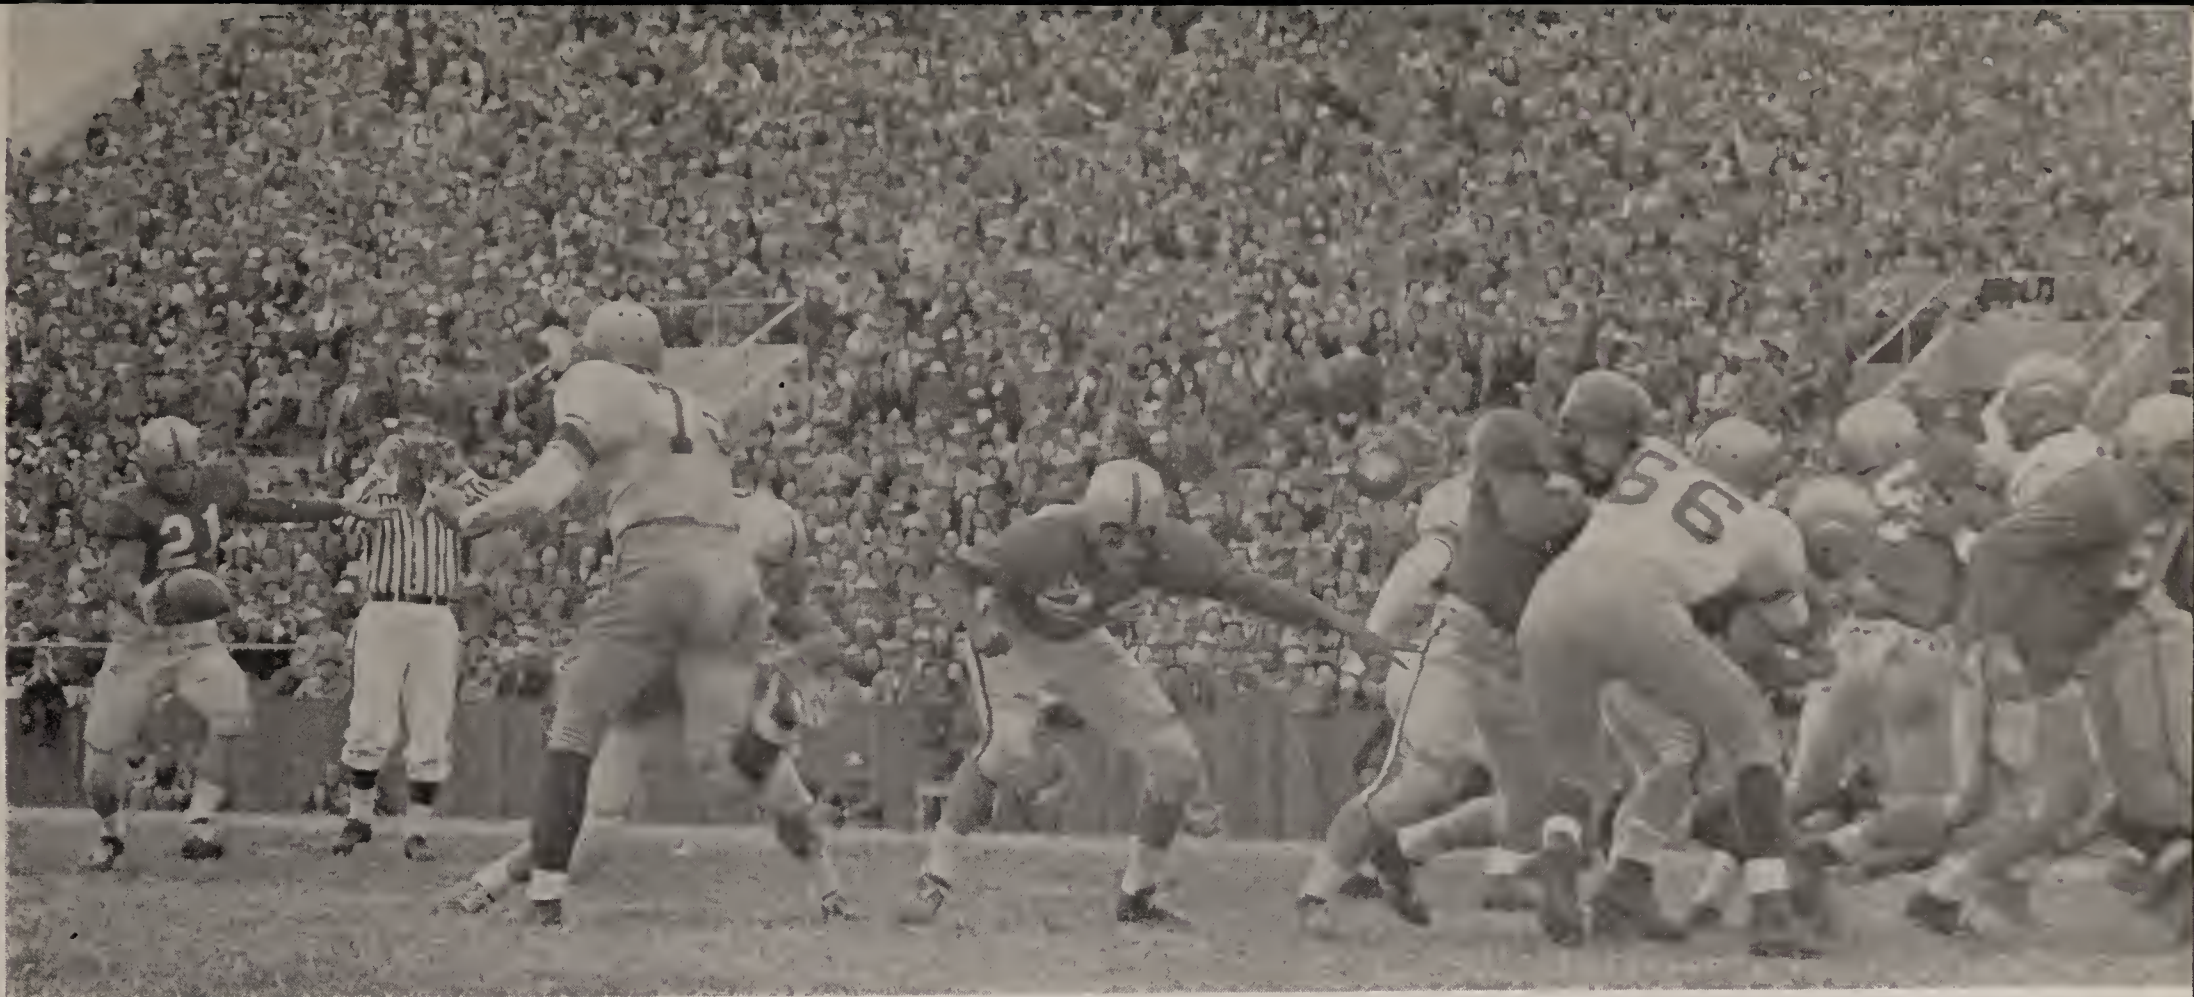

The Raiders scored first on a three-yard slant by Turner but couldn't keep up the pace as Isbell connected with 10 of 11 pass attempts in the first half alone.

After the Baylorites had run up a 40 to 7 lead, the Raiders exploded for two more quick ones with Cavazos dashing 89 yards for one and Turner slipping six for the other. Cavazos' run was the longest of the year.

Tech tries a goal line stand which worked—momentarily—Baylor scored on the next play.

Turner gets off a good one with able blocking by Arterburn, Cavazos, Davis, Barron, Cockburn and Phillips.

TECH 41, ARIZONA 0

It was a happy Homecoming for Tech as a determined Raider squad romped to an easy 41 to 0 win over the Wildcats.

Pre-season prognosticators had picked Arizona the "team-most-likely" but the Raiders paid no attention as they ripped the Wildcats to pieces.

Arterburn tallied three times on runs of 37, 1 and 49 yards. Turner scored from the two while Cavazos gathered the remaining two scores from the five-yard line and the one-foot marker.

Rick Spinks is halted by a crew of Wildcats as Whitted tries to aid from the rear.

Crossley hauls in an Arterburn toss for added yardage against Arizona.

TECH 27, TEXAS WESTERN 7

A high-spirited Miner squad stopped nearly everything the Raiders could throw as they held the Techsans to a 27 to 7 victory.

Turner sparked the Raiders by chalking up two scores, one from the one-yard line and the other on a twisting 45-yard jaunt.

The second half started with a bang as Miner Noel McCormick returned the opening kickoff 89 yards to bring the count to 14 to 7.

The Raiders countered with Cavazos and Arterburn plunging for scores to leave the count at 27 to 7.

Hardin-Simmons leather lugger is free . . . for a while

John Paul brushes a COP blocker away to pull one of the day's best tackles in the Sun Bowl tilt.

TECH 14, TULSA U. 21

The Raiders surprised everyone with their showing against the powerful Tulsa Golden Hurricane.

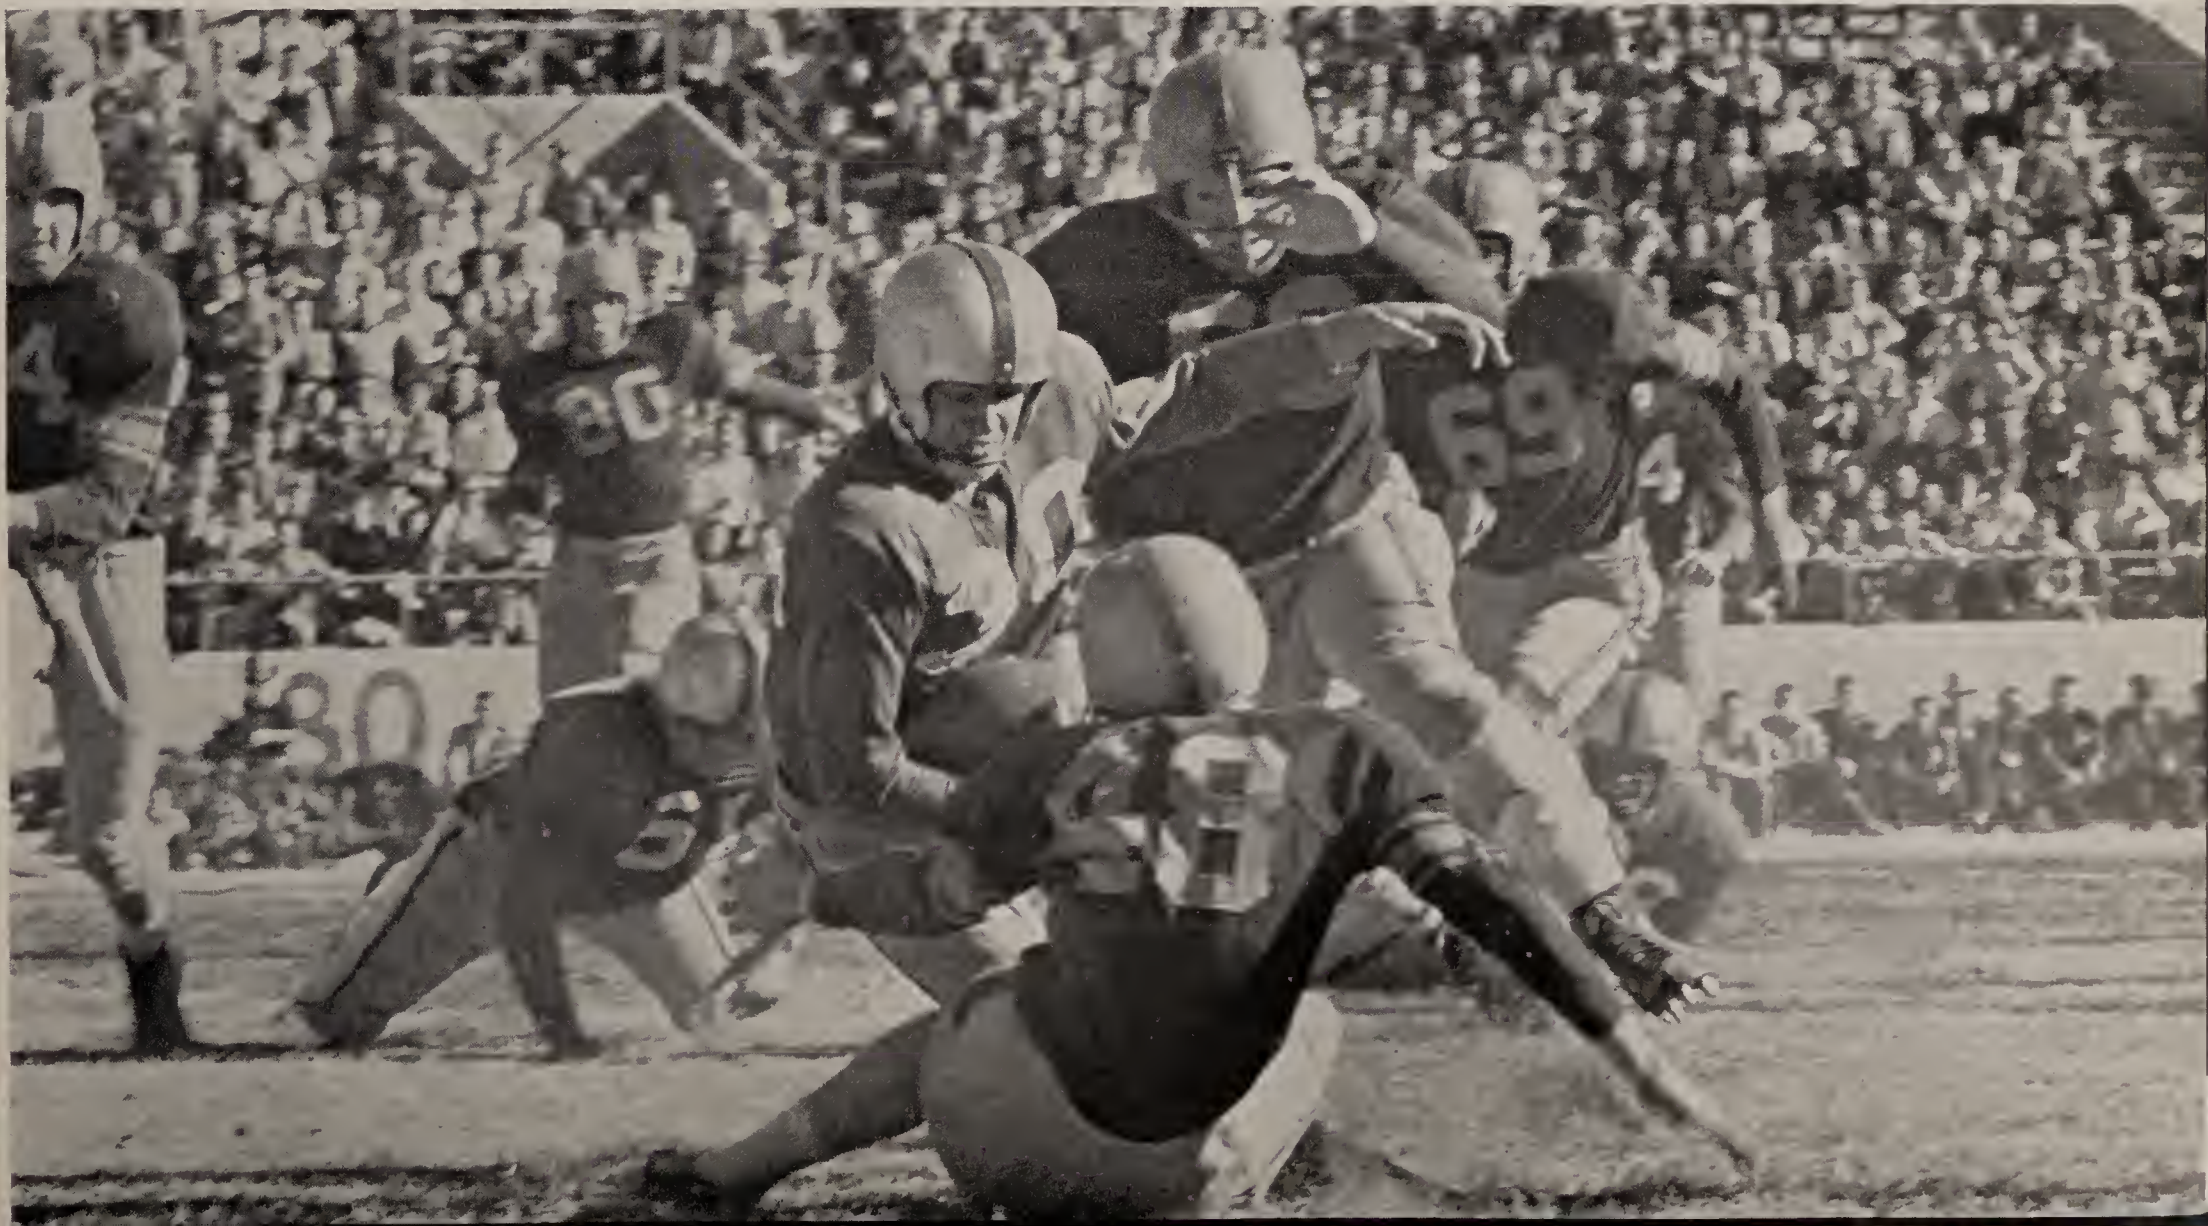

Tulsa finished the season on top of the national ratings of team offenses with a mark well over 400 yards per game.

As a matter of fact, they gained 427 yards against Tech but were able to tally only thrice. Four Tulsa threats were repelled by the Techsans.

The Raiders, however, scored only twice with Turner punching over one score and Skeeter Lewis racing 22 yards on a reverse for the other.

Sandy experiences a big day against H-SU. Here he is brought down after a good pickup.

TECH 60, NEW MEXICO U. 14

The Raiders blasted the hapless Lobos off the playing field in a wild display of power.

Everyone was scoring as Wilson and Sandy Welton chalked up two markers apiece, with Bobby Close, Graves, Turner, Cavazos and Lewis Crossley counting once each.

Close returned a punt 70 yards for his tally but was outdone by Graves, who ran a kickoff 97 yards to paydirt.

The game started out to be a close affair with the Lobos scoring soon after the first couple of Raider tallies, but then the Techs lowered the boom.

Frank Graves moves in to intercept a West Texas aerial; Graves took it all the way back for a tally.

Arterburn braces himself as two H-SU defenders bear down on him.

TECH 28, HARDIN-SIMMONS U. 21

Tech's Red Raiders invited the Cowpokes into the home corral and then proceeded to scalp them of the score, the game, the championship and the Sun Bowl bid in a real thriller.

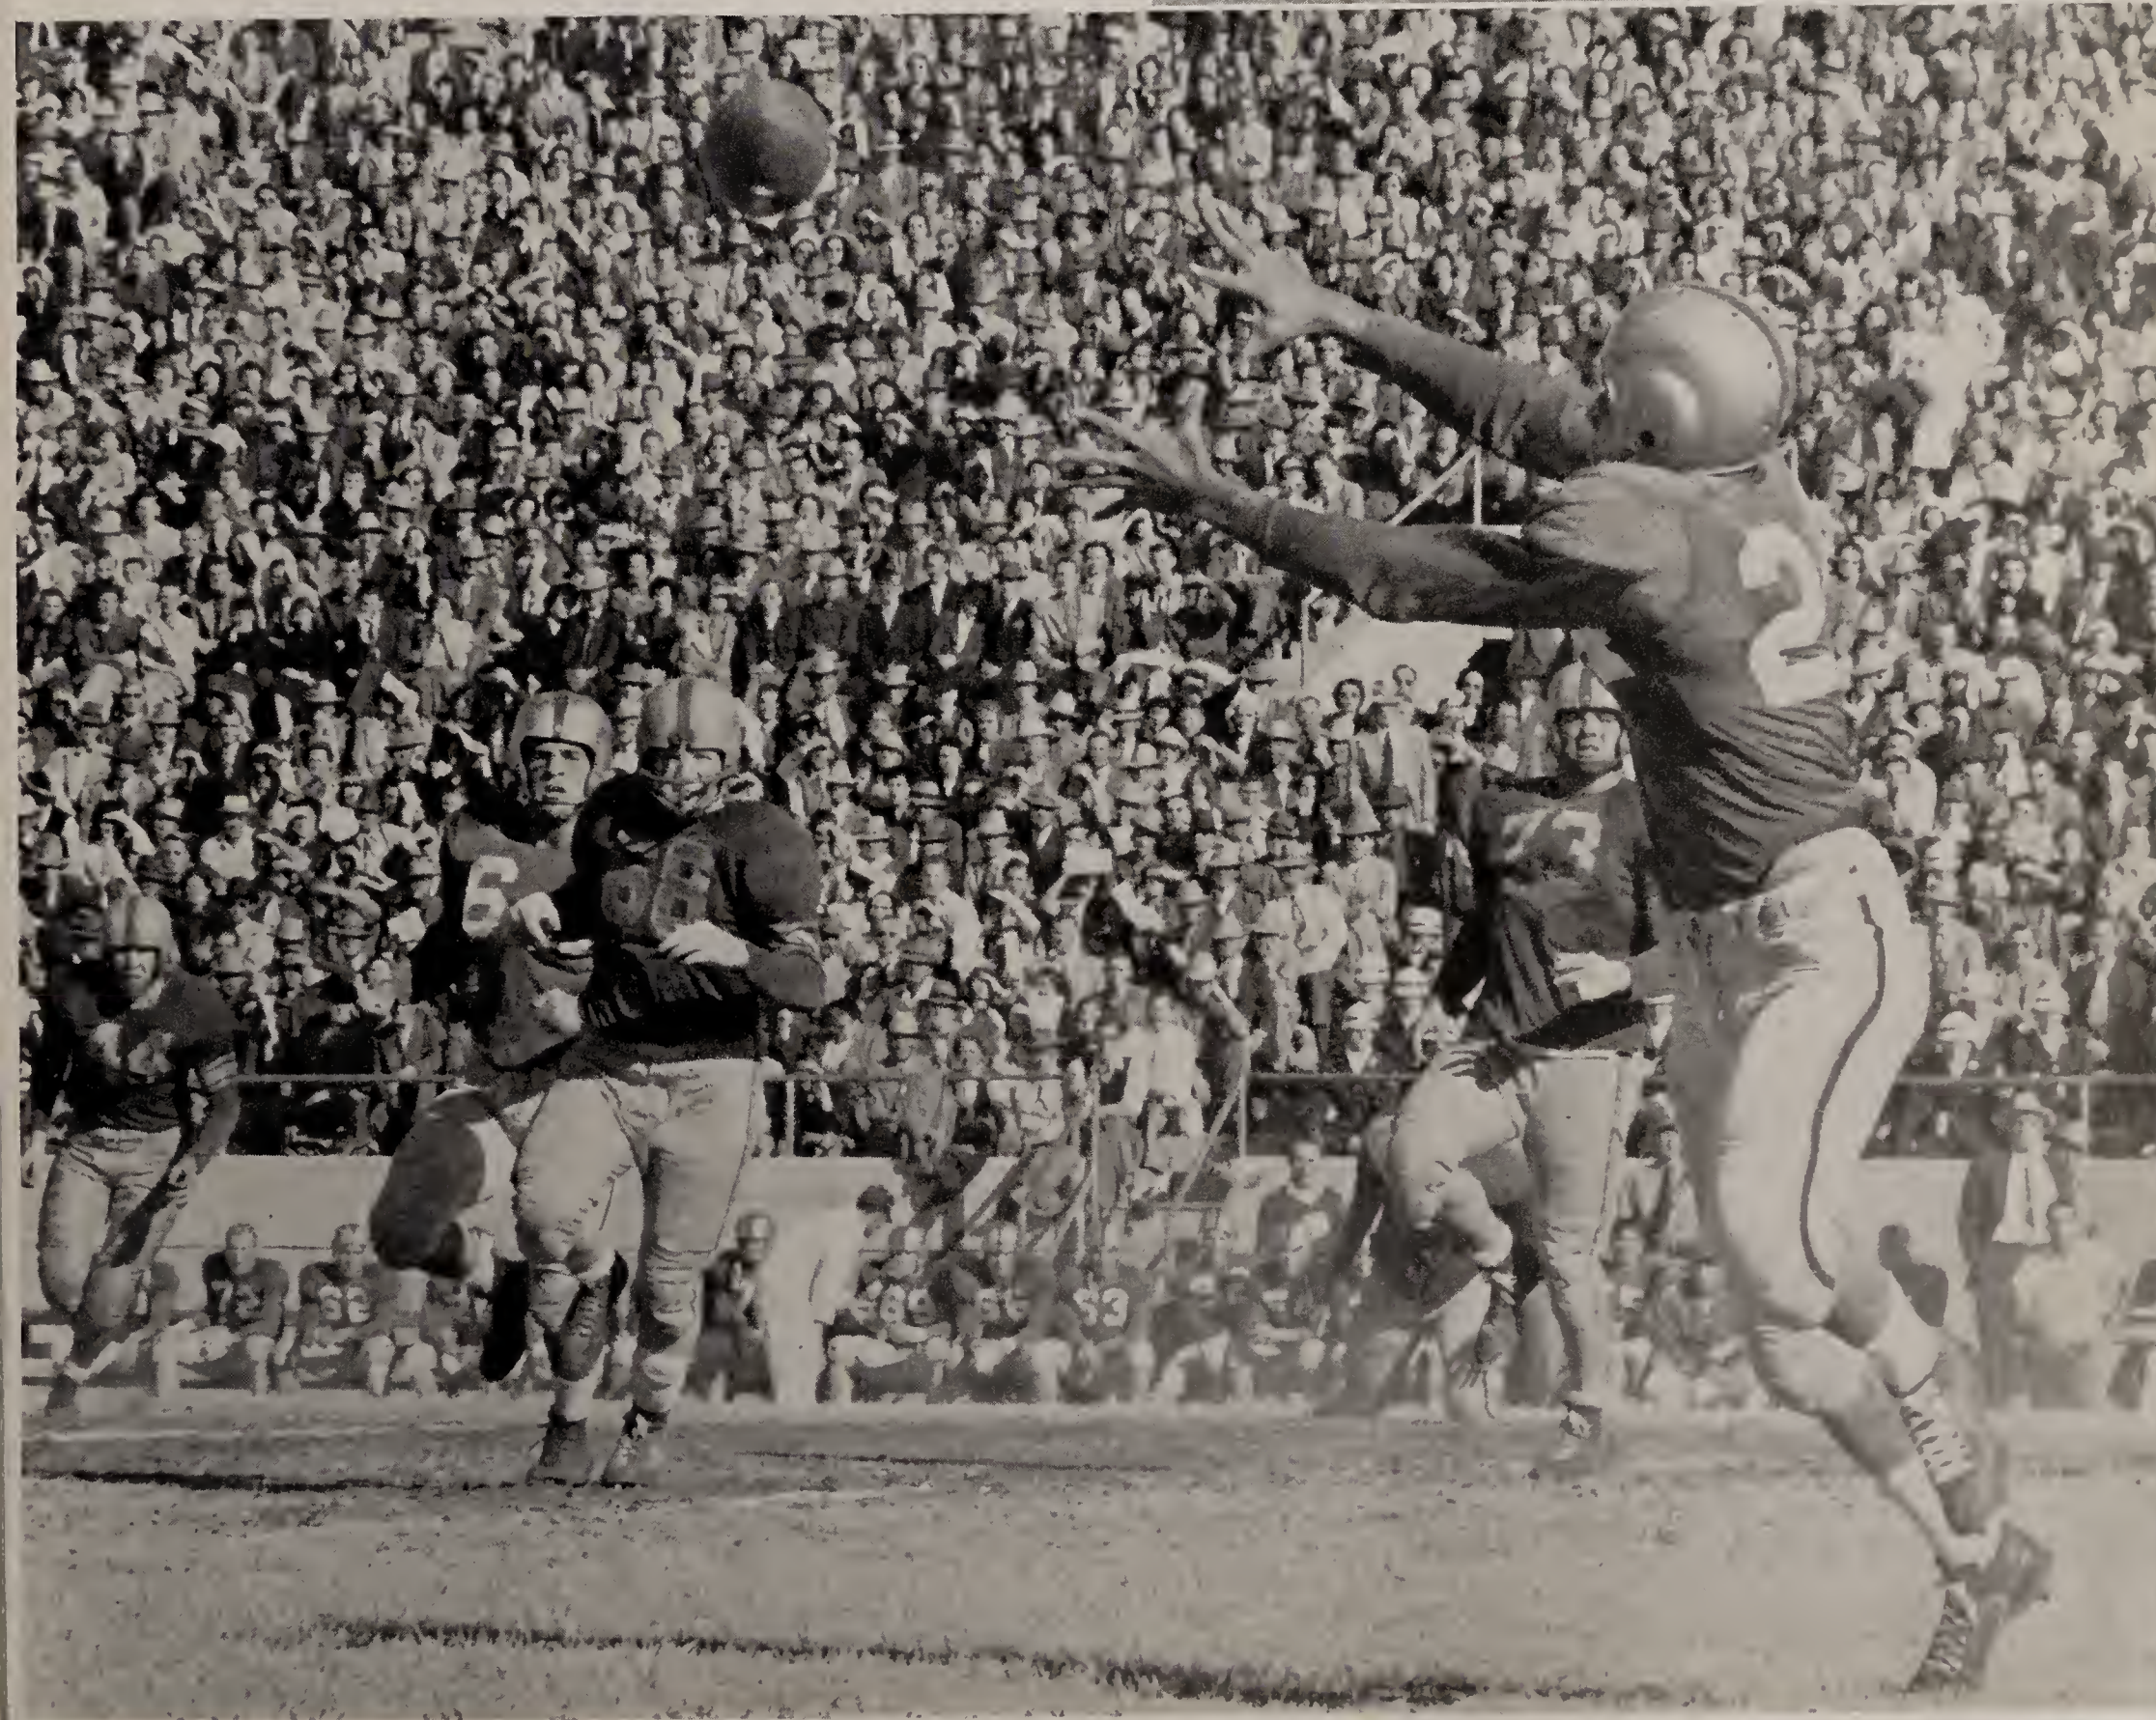

Turner scored the first t.d. from two yards out and later tallied the final one on a 10-yard toss from Arterburn.

In between Turner tallies, Welton scampered 10 yards to scratch and Cavazos pulled in another Arterburn pass good for 26 yards and a score.

The Raiders then voted 21 to 19 to go to the Sun Bowl.

Safety John Thompson swings in to halt flight of H-SU ball-carrier.

Cavazos takes 26-yard aerial from Arterburn for a score.

Women's Physical Education

Tech's feminine P. E. department produced a bevy of sports enthusiasts over the year. The courses taught the girls the spirit of fair play, gave them a better understanding of athletics, helped to build strong bodies and produced some fine coaching prospects in the graduating majors. The women's activities took a strong rise upward on the campus with the second annual Wash Bowl tilt (won by the Pink Plungers) and the appearance of a female fencing squad (North Texas Intercollegiate champs).

Raider Track Squad

Coach George Scott had the largest track squad in the school's history to work with this year.

The Raiders had looked good in early starts. They came in fifth at the Fort Worth meet, fourth in the Odessa relays and won the three-way meet between Tech, NMU and H-SU.

Tech Golf Team

The Raider linksters had not fared too well at press time. They had been defeated in four dual meets by teams such as Texas Wesleyan, Southern Methodist, Oklahoma and Tulsa. They made a good showing in the Fort Worth recreational meet, coming in seventh in a field of 17.

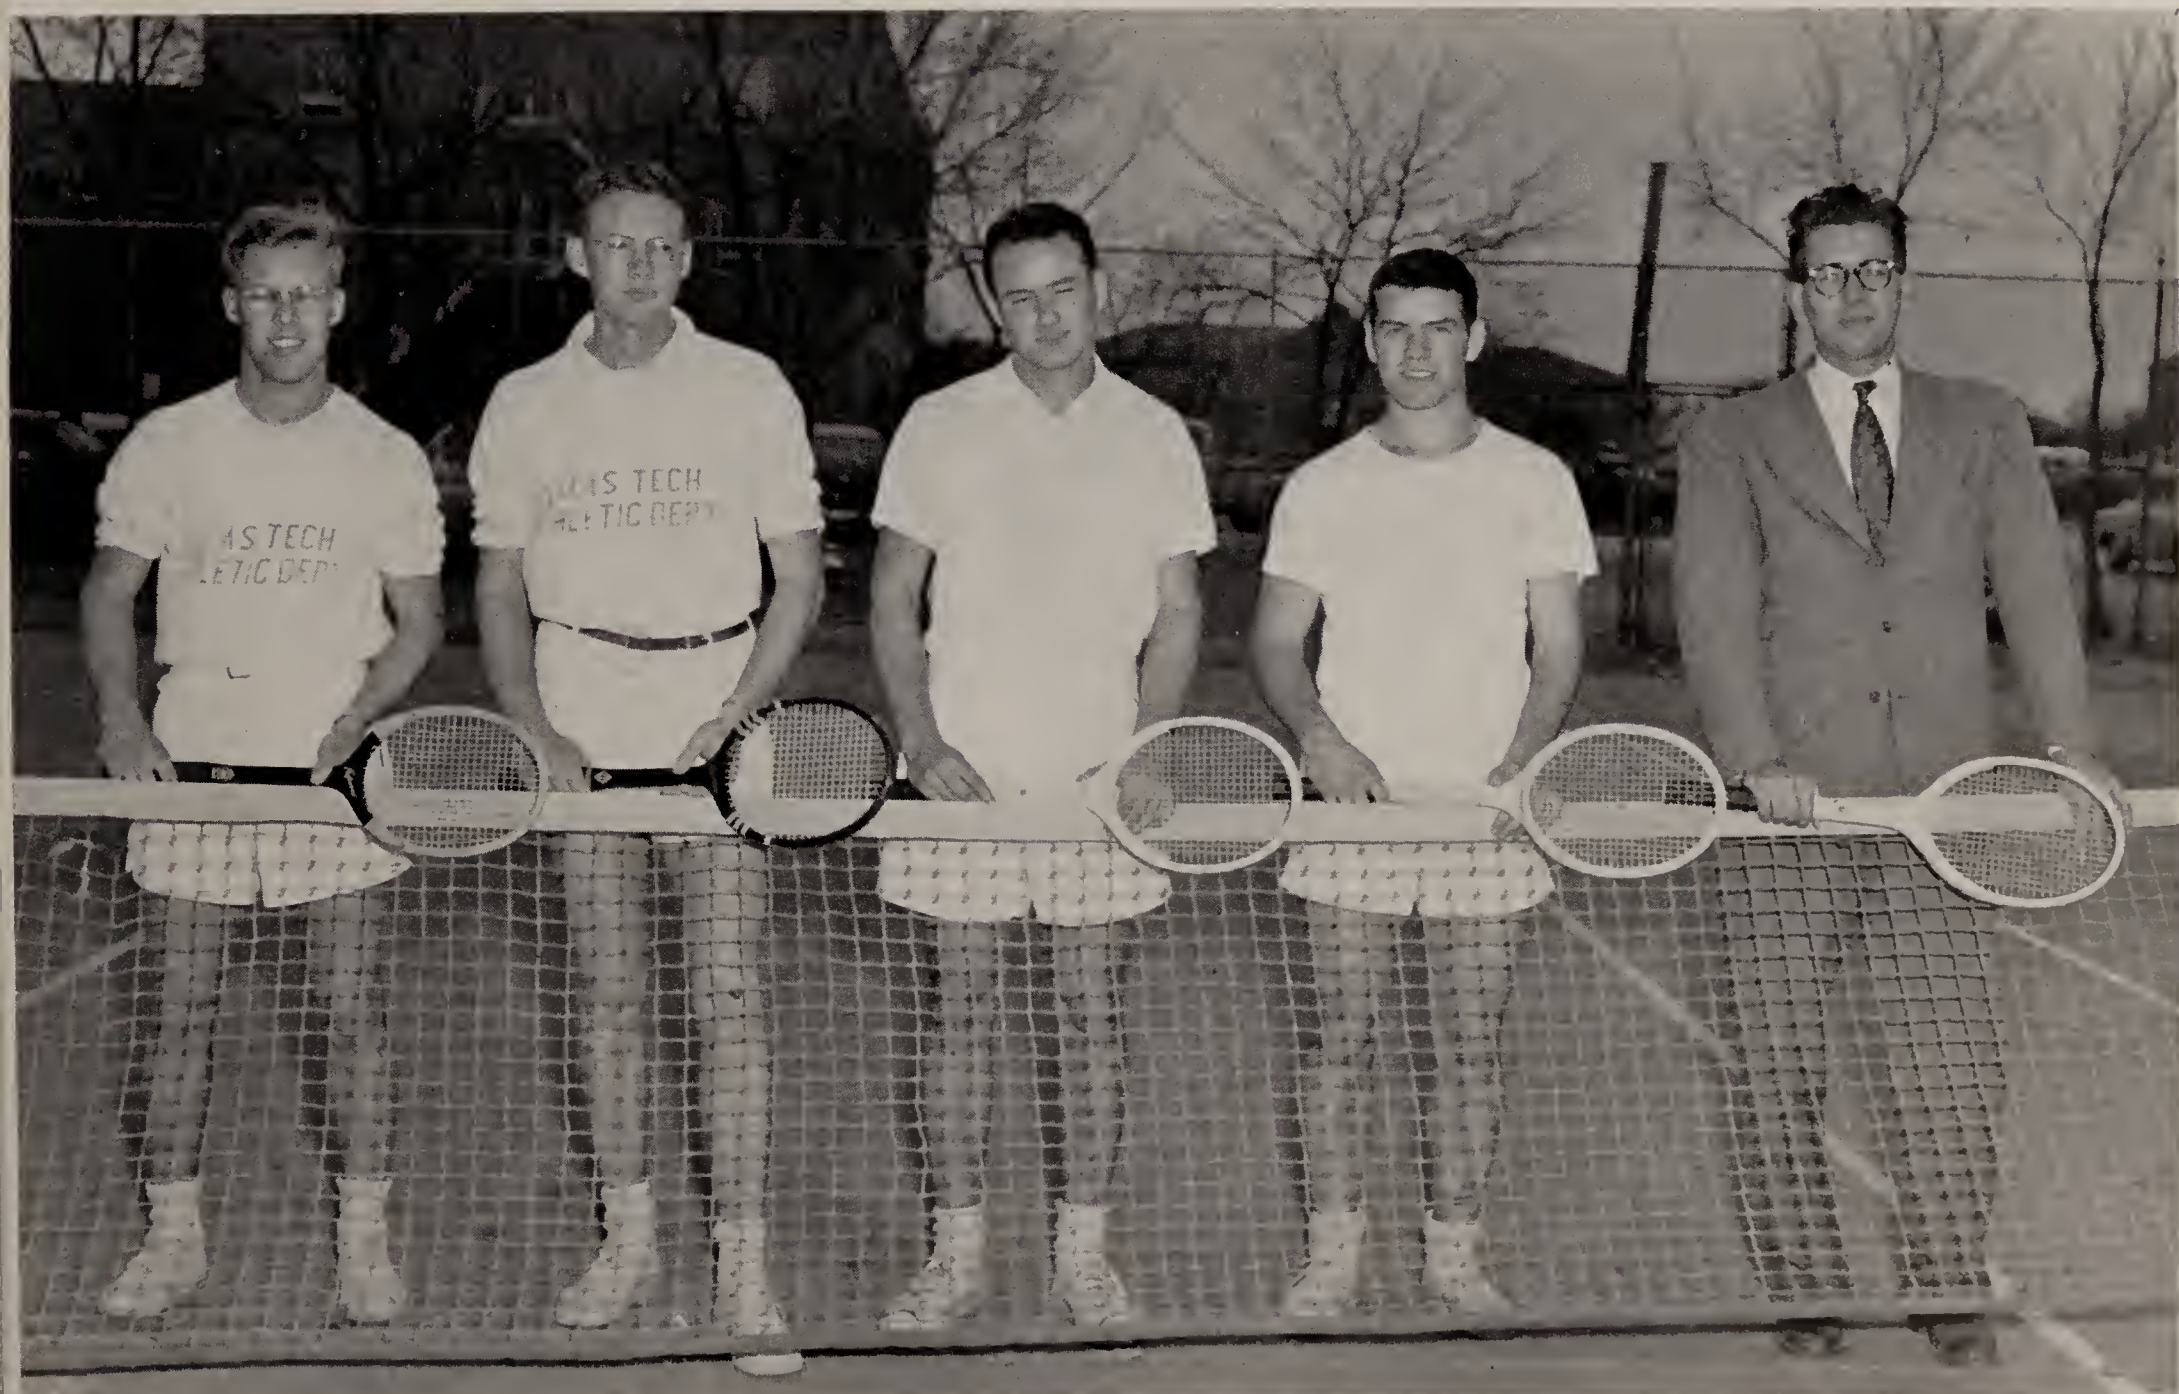

The squad, which consisted of G. W. Warden, Jim Thornton, Paul McCully and Joe Stolz, was rapidly improving and seemed ready to make its mark if not win its share of matches.

Tech Tennis Team

Under the tutelage of English Professor Roy Male, the racqueteers set out to win games and were doing well at just that by the annual deadline. They had won three matches, beating Texas Western, New Mexico and Abilene Christian. They also tied Texas Christian and lost to Hardin-Simmons, Southern Methodist and Denver U.

The squad was paced by a newcomer. David Clark, freshman netter, held the number one spot, followed by Buddy Satterwhite, Richard Clarke and Jimmy Burgess.

Tech Fencing Team

Fencers demonstrate thrust and parry.

Tech fencers went merrily on their way beating all competition. They took the North Texas fencing title and went to New Haven, Conn., to try for the national crown.

Coaching the team was number one man Roddy Hobson who was aided by Max Preston and Byron Close.

The Women's team included Ann Bryan, Harriet Moltz and Beth Gregory.

Tech Swimming Team

Tech's tankers entered their second year of varsity competition with a lofty schedule ahead and proceeded to hold their own as well as could be expected of a new team.

The Raiders downed Odessa high twice, dropped two to the Texas Aggies and another to SMU but were fighting all the way.

Outstanding tankers were Loftin Witcher, Milton Tucker, Ben Street, Jeff Morris, Bob Kain, and Don Davis.

Purpose of W.I.C.C. is to promote congeniality among women's social clubs, further democracy among all women students and to consider and regulate matters concerning women's social clubs.

The council encourages higher scholastic achievements and annually awards a cup to the club having the highest scholastic average. Each spring W.I.C.C. holds a softball tournament for the women's clubs and presents the winner with a cup. The council also sponsors a luncheon in the fall and a breakfast in the spring for members of women's social clubs.

The purpose of the M.I.C.C. is to establish a medium for working out the problems which the men's social clubs encounter on the campus at Texas Tech. It is the primary objective of the group to promote the higher ideals which justify the existence of the social clubs and fraternities on a college campus.

With eight charter members, DFD was founded at Tech March 2, 1930. It is the only social organization on the campus with a name and meaning known only to its members. Activities for the fall semester include an Hawaiian rush party, a formal Thanksgiving dinner dance, homecoming breakfast honoring alumnae, an introduction tea for new pledges, a Christmas party, and a between semesters trip to Santa Fe.

During the spring semester, the formal presentation dance highlights activities. Other functions include the Founder's Day dinner, at which time the year's outstanding member and pledge are chosen, and a farewell dance honoring seniors. Climax of the year is a reunion held the first three days following the spring semester at Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Ko Shari Club is unique in that its background is ancient, historical and of Indian origin. Ko Shari means "delight makers." On the campus the club has sought high scholastic standards, a democratic spirit toward college associates, and has encouraged participation in campus activities. Rush week was climaxed by the Indian dinner carrying out the tradition and background of the club. The Hallowe'en masquerade, the patronesses' barbeque, December dinner dance and annual Christmas party were main events of the fall semester.

Ko Shari was awarded the 1951 softball trophy by W.I.C.C. Following presentation in March, patronesses and alumnae join the members to make their annual Easter trip to Santa Fe. Easter festivities were climaxed by initiation at Arrowhead Kiva on Sunday evening. Picnics given by the alumnae and patroness groups and the farewell breakfast closed the year.

Las Chaparritas was organized by the first Dean of Women at Texas Tech, Mrs. Mary Doak, in 1926. It was the first girls' club on the campus. The club functions to unite girls of a common interest through associations and engaging in social activities. It has perpetuated the aim to aid in campus-wide activities which need its support, and to foster happiness among its own members and groups with whom they come in contact.

Fall activities consist of the club members honoring new pledges with a picnic and formal dinner dance. A Christmas party is also a yearly affair.

Highlighting the spring functions was the traditional Valentine presentation in February at which new members and pledges were presented to the tune of "Sweethearts on Parade." Included in the spring events were the tea dance given by the patronesses, a spring farewell dance, and a picnic honoring the graduating members.

Las Chaps of both past and present are traditionally united in July.

Las Vivarachas holds as its purpose the promotion of friendship and congeniality among its members and the instilling of the feeling of higher scholastic achievement and greater interest in extra-curricular activities. These were set up by the charter members on March 15, 1930, and are the principles upon which the club operates.

In the fall the Vivis honored fall pledges with the annual Starlight Dance at the Hilton Hotel. Hallowe'en night the pledges entertained the members and some exes with a party. On Sunday, November 4, the club enjoyed a picnic at Mackenzie park.

The alumnae, patronesses, and active club members attended a tea and reception homecoming at which the trophies for most beautiful float and most outstanding float in the homecoming parade were shown.

In December the club enjoyed a Christmas Party, and a caroling tour to hospitals and the Old Folks' Home.

The spring semester featured the costume dance on February 9, WICC baseball competition, the Founders Day dinner and was highlighted with the presentation of new members and pledges while Burl Hubbard's orchestra played "Violets."

The year ended with the traditional farewell dinner honoring graduating seniors in May. Vivis old and new come together each summer for a four-day reunion.

Las Vivis joined other organizations on the campus this year in a united effort for a bigger and better Tech.

Purpose of Sans Souci club is to promote congenial friendship, social activities, and maintain highest moral and scholastic standards.

Following the French theme offered by the name (Sans Souci meaning "without care"), rush week is climaxed by traditional La Cafe Sans Souci, which has the setting of a French sidewalk cafe. An introductory tea is held in honor of the new pledges in the fall. Homecoming features an annual coffee honoring all alums. In November, a fall semi-formal dance is held, this year carrying out the French theme.

Sans Souci opens presentation season by holding their annual Christmas presentation in December. Between semesters the girls journey to Bandera for rest and relaxation at a dude ranch. Each member has a patroness mother; these women are entertained with a picnic in the spring and entertain the active members by an annual Mexican supper each fall.

Yearly activities include a dinner-dance, Gypsy dance, participation in WICC softball tournament, a spring steak fry, breakfast given by the Lubbock Alumnae association, party honoring graduating seniors, reunion between summer and fall terms, and a tea dance.

Each Christmas the group gives food, clothing and toys to needy families of Lubbock.

This year celebrates Sans Souci's twenty-fifth year on the campus.

Adelphi Fraternity was organized in the fall of 1950 and was admitted as a campus organization in the spring of the same year. Thirteen charter members founded the fraternity and in the spring completed the constitution and admitted the first group of pledges. The five main principles upon which the group was founded are brotherhood, service, scholarship, friendliness, honor. The name was derived from the Greek word meaning brotherhood.

Activities for the year include the Big Brother-Little Brother breakfasts, picnics, a dinner dance and an open dance each semester. Highlight of the fall semester, 1951, was the initiation of the first pledges in outdoor midnight ceremonies at Yellowhouse Canyon. Adelphi participates in intramural sports and other campus activities. Featured are service projects, such as painting the old Rec Hall.

The Centaur Club, organized in 1929, was the first men's social club on the campus whose members were all college students. The purpose of the club is to promote the ideals of honor, scholarship, integrity and fraternal spirit among the members.

The club had its annual Lil' Abner dance in November with all attending dressed Dogpatch style. A formal dance was given in January, followed by the "Joe College" sport dance in the spring. Social activities sponsored by the club ended with the annual spring dinner-dance on May 13 when gifts were presented to dates of members, pledges and alumni present. On Sunday morning, following the dinner dance, a Mother's Day breakfast in honor of members' mothers is given by the club, after which members and their mothers attend church in a group.

The College Club fraternity was organized November 21, 1928, and is the oldest men's social club on the campus. The club was founded for the purpose of promoting the ideals of brotherhood and friendship. The interlocked double "C" on the emblem keynotes the secret motto of the organization.

Traditionally, College Club has the first fall formal dance and the first spring sport dance. The club is always active in all inter-club activities on the campus. Other activities include a "Big-Brother, Little-Brother" breakfast, a spring picnic, and a farewell stag dinner given at the close of school for the graduating seniors.

Kemas Fraternity was organized in 1932 for the purpose of promoting fellowship and brotherhood among its members. High scholastic and moral standards are the principal goal of the fraternity. Kemas, an Indian word meaning friend, is what each member sincerely wants to be.

Activities for the year started September 1-3 with the "Fourteenth Reunion Convention" at the Shangri-La Guest Ranch outside of Fort Worth. Other activities of the year included a fall sport dance, Homecoming reception and party, January anniversary dance, February dinner dance, spring picnic, and spring festival sport dance. Other than the social activities, Kemas participated in all campus and M. I. C. C. sports and activities.

Los Camaradas was organized in 1930 to promote a friendly relationship between its members and other students. It has continued to carry on this tradition.

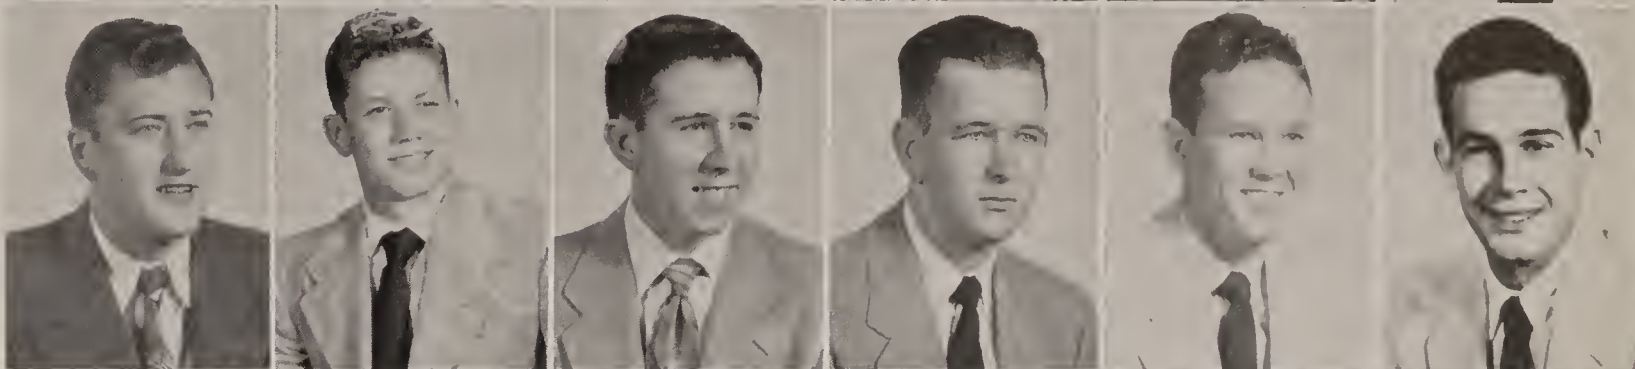

A dance held on October 28 started off the year's social events. The highlights of the early school activities was the annual fall formal dinner-dance, December 1. The spring activities included a sport dance and a picnic dance held at the Mackenzie party house. During Homecoming, a reception for "exes" was held in Lubbock Hotel. The club participated in intramural football, basketball, baseball, and track.

The Silver Key Fraternity was organized in 1929, primarily for the purpose of promoting a closer feeling of brotherhood among its members and to uphold the principles of democracy on the campus. Silver Key was the second fraternal organization on the Tech campus.

This year the fraternity held its annual summer reunion for old members and present members in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

During the fall, activities included a dinner-dance at the Lubbock Country Club honoring new members and pledges, a Homecoming banquet for old Silver Key members, and a Christmas formal.

A "Big Brother-Little Brother" breakfast started off the Spring, later followed a Sport Dance and a breakfast honoring graduating seniors.

Socii was formed in 1937. It is based on a social organization of the same name that existed at Oxford University during the 18th century. The club tries to follow the same principles and ideals as those set by the Oxford organization.

Activities of the year included two "Big-Brother, Little-Brother" breakfasts, a fall dance, a spring dance, and a picnic. The traditional Orchid dance, at which each member and pledge presents his date with an orchid, was held in February this year.

Socii colors are maroon and white; the flower is a carnation. Socii is a Greek word meaning "brotherhood."

Wranglers Fraternity was organized in October, 1929, and has been active continuously since that date. The nine charter members founded the organization to promote high ideals among its membership in all activities of their college life as regards scholarship, social activities, standards of living, true fellowship, and brotherly love.

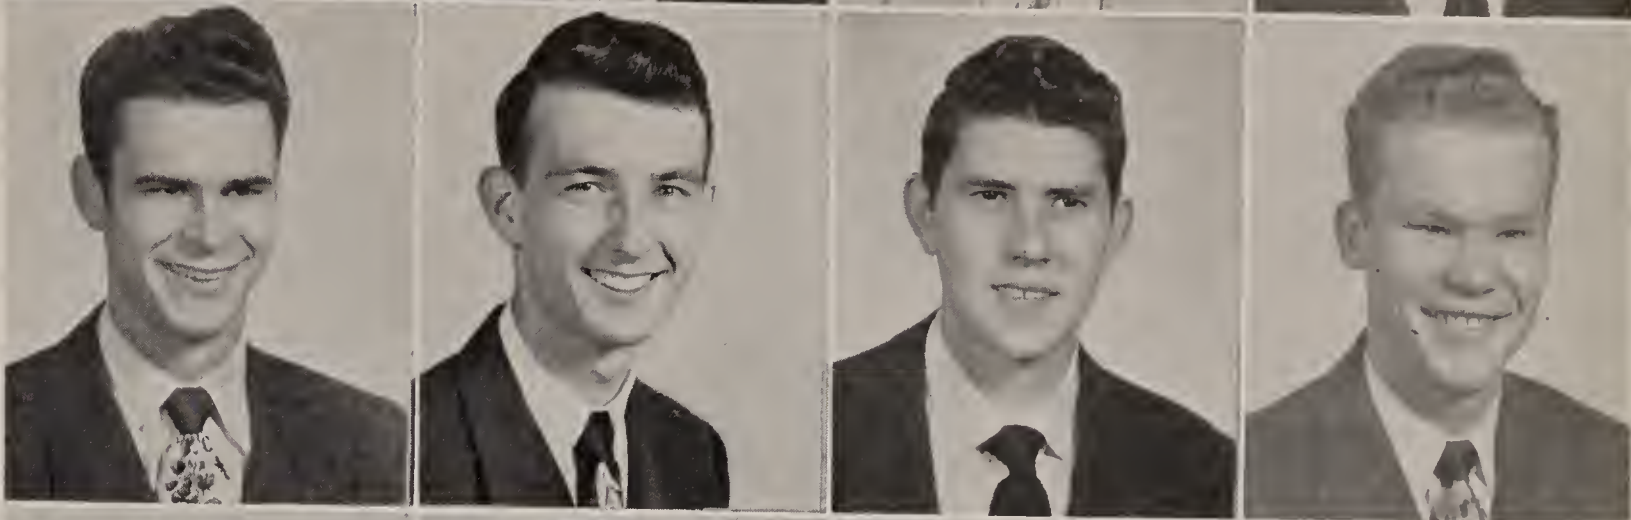

Each semester, Wranglers hold a rush function for prospective pledges and give the traditional "Big Brother, Little Brother" breakfast honoring new pledges. The annual Christmas dance was held before the holidays and the twenty-fourth George Washington Birthday ball, honoring new members, was given in February. A spring sport dance in April and a picnic for graduating seniors at the close of the year are among the fraternity's activities. Wranglers participate in intramural activities.

Newest Foundation on the Tech campus, the Texas Tech Christian Foundation has taken a significant part in the religious life of the campus this year. Meeting in the First Christian Church, and having offices and classroom there, the Foundation is the agency of the Christian Churches, or Disciples of Christ of Texas and is supported by the home churches of West Texas students.

Future plans of the Foundation include a wider selection of courses offered, and the erection of a Student Center for off-campus activities near the Church.

Aim of the Foundation and of the DSF is expressed in the motto adopted by them, to maintain activities and training that will better fit the "Students of Today for the Church of Tomorrow."

The Alpha Eta chapter of the National Society of Wesley Players marks its twelfth year on the campus of Texas Tech during 1952. The local chapter has grown since its organization in March, 1940, with twenty-six charter members, to be one of the largest chapters in the National Society, having seventy-eight members this year. The purpose of the organization is to study and present religious drama with the aim of challenging both the audience and actor to higher ideals in Christian living.

Tech's chapter, which meets twice a month, is open to all college students. Plays, worship drama, radio drama, skits, and play readings are all a part of the program carried on by the organization. One of the most interesting goals of a member of Wesley Players is to fulfill the requirements for being a director and then to direct one of the plays given each semester. Reverend and Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews supervise the varied work of the chapter.

A banquet and initiation honoring the pledges is held each semester.

Westminster Student Fellowship is the service organization of Presbyterian students at Tech, and is a unit of the National Westminster Fellowship of Presbyterian students and the World Student Christian Federation. The joint committee for Presbyterian student work at Tech, appointed by the two cooperating Presbyterian Synods of Texas, sponsors the organization.

Westminster House opens daily at 7:30 for morning watch, and is in constant use during the week as a center for the social, recreational, and religious life of hundreds of students. Through the Student Center the facilities of the Presbyterian Churches of Lubbock are made available to all students.

Delta Sigma Pi

Beta Upsilon chapter of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi was established at Texas Tech during the fall semester of 1947. Delta Sigma Pi, the largest fraternity in the professional field, includes the students of commerce and business administration. The chapter selects members with a grade point average of 1.5 or better from the Division of Business Administration.

Delta Sigma Pi sponsors a professional program which includes outstanding speakers from the business world and tours of leading business firms. The fraternity also promotes better scholarship by awarding a gold key annually to the top male senior student in the Division of Business Administration. Social activities include a dinner-dance celebrating the fraternity's birthday, a homecoming party, and a presentation dance for the Rose of Delta Sigma Pi.

Tau Beta Sigma, National honorary sorority for college bandswomen, was founded on the Tech campus in 1939. The Tech chapter was the first of 32 present national chapters. The purposes of the sorority are to encourage development of musical abilities, to stimulate campus leadership, to foster friendship within the band and with bands of other schools and to provide pleasant and helpful social experiences for all engaged in college band work.

The highest honor the sorority can achieve is the awarding of the Balfour Cup. Chapters all over the United States vie for this honor each year. The cup was awarded the Tech Chapter for the outstanding work they completed during the 1950-51 school year.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary and professional fraternity for women in the field of journalism, has as its goal making definite contributions to the cause of better journalism and assisting its members to higher achievement in the field of letters.

Annual events of Alpha Upsilon, Tech's chapter of Theta Sig, include professional programs, the sponsoring of Club Scarlet, mock nightclub at which Tech's most handsome man is chosen, and the matrix banquet given on the organization's birthday in April.

The Texas Tech Chapter of Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society was chartered in 1939. Majors in chemistry and chemical engineering meet once each week with the purpose of offering the beginnings of professional associations and showing the student the other side of his chosen work. To this end, speakers or movies are presented at meetings, while parties and picnics help members to become better acquainted.

In 1950, members of the club attended the second annual convention of the Southwest Student Affiliate Chapters of the American Chemical Society in San Antonio, Texas.

The objects of the Student Chapter are: to emphasize the professional aspects of student activities on the campus; to promote cooperation between student architects and practitioners; to enlarge the student's understanding of the architectural practice; to further prepare the student to assume responsibilities of associate membership; and to represent the students of the school collectively in all extra-curricular activities relative to the faculty of the school, the profession, and other campus organizations.

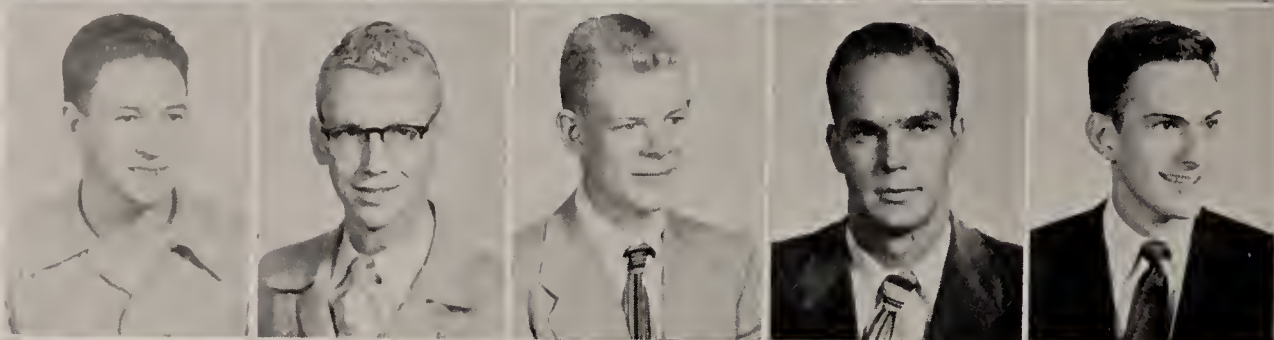

The Student Chapter was granted its National Charter on January 13, 1951, the Charter being presented on October 20, 1951, by Mr. Ed Wilson, Regional Director, A.I.A.

The Tech student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, which was organized in 1938, was the first chapter in Texas. The only requirement is an under-graduate standing in Chemical Engineering.

The purpose of the club is to promote relations between students and the faculty and to help the student understand the problems and situations encountered in the profession of his choice. The club also has three other purposes, those being to promote interest in chemical engineering, to create contacts with related industries, and to provide an organized representation for the students in the Department of Chemical Engineering.

The American Society of Civil Engineers was founded in 1852 and the local student chapter was chartered in January, 1933. Its objectives are: "The advancement of the science of engineering, the professional improvement of its members, the encouragement of intercourse between men of practical science, and the establishment of a central point of reference for its members." The local chapter offers the students of civil engineering a chance to acquaint themselves with the activities of the ASCE as a whole.

Members from the local chapter attended both of the state meetings of the ASCE. The fall meeting was held in El Paso, and the spring meeting in Orange.

The student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at Texas Technological College was chartered in 1930. The purpose of the society is to foster and promote among the members interest in all matters pertaining to electrical engineering and its related fields. The student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers at Tech was chartered in 1950. The aims of the Institute of Radio Engineers include the advancement of the theory and practice of radio, the allied branches of engineering and the related arts and sciences, their application to human needs, and the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members.

The purpose of the society is to broaden the students' acquaintance with the practical side of the practice of mechanical engineering.

Technical discussions develop the student's initiative and ability to speak in public, and familiarize him with parliamentary procedure and the organization of learned societies.

Guest speakers, field trips, and an annual regional conference enable the student to become acquainted with his colleagues and to meet graduate engineers engaged in the active practice of mechanical engineering.

A.W.S. is an association of all women students at Texas Tech. The governing body is a council composed of five elected officers, one girl from each class, and a representative from each of the women's organizations.

Each year A.W.S. sponsors a handbook for entering women students called "Tech Tips," a Big Sister-Little Sister program, a reception honoring the Texas Tech Red Raiders, the activity point system, and a spring Recognition dinner for women outstanding in leadership and scholarship.

A.W.S. is a member of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Women Students, the national purpose of which is to consider issues important in colleges and after graduation and to exchange ideas with member colleges.

The Agricultural Club, more commonly referred to as the Aggie Club, was founded in 1926 to promote interest in all matters pertaining to agriculture. Other aims of the club include encouragement of cooperation among its members in projects of the college, promotion of social events, athletic contests, and programs for the development and entertainment of the members.

The Aggie Club this year sponsored a trophy case, built in the Aggie Building for the purpose of keeping the trophies won by the different agriculture departments.

Activities of the year included a pig roast, an Aggie-HE party and a banquet.

The Arnold Air Society is an affiliate of the Air Force Association organized to further the purpose, mission, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force.

The Lewis C. Ellis squadron publishes the Arnold Air Letter which travels to colleges and universities all over the United States as well as territories controlled by the United States, and to all major air commands. It is the permanent headquarters of the fourth area.

The squadron sponsors the annual Air Force Ball and a picnic in the spring semester. Representatives of all squadrons attended the Miami conclave.

Block and Bridle club, a chapter of the national organization, was originated on the campus in 1933 with its purpose to promote scholarship, interest in livestock judging, and bring about a closer relationship among men of Animal Husbandry. Members are advanced students majoring in A. H., members of livestock judging teams, college professors, and specialists in the department of Animal Husbandry.

Activities include sponsorship of the annual Little International Livestock Show, All College Rodeo and Western Days, livestock judging contests, a fall picnic, homecoming breakfast for club alumni, Days of '49 party, annual spring steak fry honoring pledges, and an annual banquet during the spring semester.

The Cosmopolitan Club was created in February, 1949, by the international students of Texas Tech for the purpose of bettering international good will on this campus as well as promoting enrollment of students from other countries.

Since its formation, the members of the Cosmopolitan have provided international programs on the campus as well as many civic, educational and P.T.A. organizations throughout the South Plains. In addition, they have participated actively in campus activities such as the senior carnival and the United Nations Day. The club has an annual Christmas banquet in the fall and a steak fry in the spring.

Liederkranz, one of the oldest language clubs on the campus, was organized to promote appreciation and enjoyment of German folklore. At the monthly meetings, German songs are sung and the scientific pursuits of the German people are studied. Liederkranz was organized in 1938 by Dr. Thor J. Beck. Musical and dramatic skits and radio broadcasts are given by members.

The only legally incorporated student organization on the campus is the Tech Engineering Society. The purposes of the organization, as expressed by the state charter in 1936, are to foster a spirit of unity, cooperation, and friendliness among engineering students; to promote enterprises for the welfare of the division; and to sponsor a loan fund for junior and senior students. Guiding the activities of the Society are the board of directors, chosen from each of the smaller clubs and organizations in the division of Engineering.

The Paul W. Horne chapter of Future Teachers of America was founded in 1939 to stimulate interest in the teaching profession by providing instructive and recreational activities for prospective teachers. F.T.A. is open to all students who are interested in the teaching profession. All F.T.A. members are junior members of the National Education Association and the Texas State Teachers Association.

The purposes of F.T.A. are: To provide, through regular meetings and programs, opportunities for acquiring information pertaining to the teaching profession.

To provide, through junior membership in the National Education Association, the Texas State Teachers Association, and through the accumulation of a chapter library, an incentive for developing a professional spirit among prospective teachers.

To provide each member of the chapter reference material, including the National Education Association Journal, The Texas Outlook, Personal Growth leaflets, The Yearbook, and additional materials.

Sock and Buskin is one of the oldest clubs on the campus, being organized in the fall of 1925. Its purpose is to further interest in dramatics on the campus, and to provide the opportunity for developing dramatic talent of its members through participation in plays and programs.

The two main activities of the club are helping with all phases of production on the major departmental plays and producing plays of its own. It is the policy of the club to encourage those persons to become members who show dramatic abilities and sufficient initiative to justify the belief that participation in the work of the club will increase their educational and cultural advancement.

The Tech Accounting Society was organized in 1939 with 21 charter members, whose aim was to affiliate those students who are interested in accounting and who have completed the minimum requirements for club membership. To be eligible for membership, the student must have completed eight hours of elementary accounting with an average of "B," and be enrolled in an advanced accounting class. He must also be approved by the members.

Social activities of the organization include an annual Christmas banquet.

All students in the department of Textile Engineering are eligible for membership in the Textile Engineering Society.

This society was organized in 1937 as a professional society. The main function of the society is to help further intellectual advancement of the students in the Textile department while serving to promote good fellowship among the textile students. The club meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

The Society sponsors various projects each semester in order to raise funds for an annual industrial inspection tour of the textile mills and factories in Texas. This trip is made during the Easter holidays, and is considered highly beneficial to the textile engineer as it gives him insight into the actual mill processes and creates an enthusiasm and natural interest in his work in school.

It Happened Like This . . .

Turning away from the Silver Anniversary celebrations of the previous year, Texas Tech entered its second quarter-century. The old body got new blood in the form of a new coach, a new freshman class, and a whole set of shiny new buildings. The old traits and traditions—some good, some not so—remained.

THE CAMPUS

The long-heralded Student Union building began to rise slowly on ground near the shabby Rec Hall, which continued to be filled with bridge, dancing, and the aroma of bad—but socially correct—coffee . . . the opening of the music, science, and east engineering buildings foretold the end of the X-building era . . . the board of directors gave the dorms official names, christening them with the often-disconcerting surnames of past presidents and directors . . . the cherished grass in turn was green, brown, snow-covered, and holding tight as spring brought wailing winds to the campus.

THE INMATES

4500 new and used Techsans braved the torments of registration—an unexpectedly high total for these days of Far Eastern police actions . . . a survey produced the useless fact that students consume 260 gallons of coffee each day in the Rec Hall and in College Avenue eating places . . . the student body tasted the La Ventana staff's bitter frustration at the confusion and delay in having pictures made for the yearbook . . . chow hounds in Bledsoe and Gordon Halls (nee Men's dorms III and IV) howled about the crowding of their dining halls with West Hall residents, whose mess hall was not functioning . . . Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities spotlighted those who were blessed with both leadership and grade-points.

THE GUYS

Hopes for a draft deferment on medical grounds (enlargement of the brain) were widely dashed by the selective service tests which were given in December and April . . . another approach to the problem was attempted by 780 infantry-eligible males who signed up for ROTC, swelling the ranks to a new high for Tech . . . the guys raced just as hard to be crowned "Most Handsome" at Theta Sig's Club Scarlet as they did to win APO's "Ugly Man" contest.

—AND THE DOLLS

Aggie auditorium was filled with rustling skirts as beauty candidates smiled and pirouetted for perplexed judges . . . Jones stadium temporarily became the Wash Bowl as the Pink Plungers met the Sophisticated Stoppers—the Plungers won on extra downs . . . the South Plains' bid for the Maid of Cotton title was De Rose Wittenburg, who later attracted the attention of VIP's of the New York model industry . . . a new dean of women assumed the job of being advisor, friend, and sometimes dictator.

THE FIELD OF COMBAT

The Raiders lost only the score to A&M in Dallas' Cotton Bowl, where thousands of Techsans and Aggies sweated out the tense contest . . . and, lo, the bells of victory rang loud and long (due to a group of hand-picked slimes) when Tech defeated TCU for its first win over a Southwest Conference foe since 1948 . . . long-planned card stunts finally made their debut at the Hardin-Simmons game . . . and the Border Conference championship trophy took a renewable lease on the Ad building's glass case Sue Haynie, Tech's princess-ambassador to the Sun Bowl court, saw the Raiders draw post-season blood from College of the Pacific, 25-14.

THE FIRSTS

The first all-dorm dance presented Mister and Miss Texas Tech, Bob Schmidt and Rhett McMaster, in a crowded Drane Hall ballroom Pledge prospects for women's social clubs met before the beginning of the fall semester to take part in the first pre-school rush week the mysterious letters "BK to FW" were revealed to mean "Be Kind to Faculty Week", a Forum-sponsored experiment in human relations during which students were not served coffee in the Rec Hall unless accompanied by a prof—and vice-versa.

THE THEATRE

The Speech department found responsive audiences for "My Heart's in the Highlands", "Stage Door", and "As You Like It" "The Tennessee Waltz" in German was a highlight of Lieder-kranz Melodien 1952 the World Student Service Fund talent show repeated its success of the previous year . . . women chalked up another victory in this man's world as Shirley Sears was elected to direct the Varsity show.

THE BALLOT BOX

Class officers were elected following a convocation where President Wiggins asserted that "there are no secrets at Texas Tech" students went to the polls again to name class favorites and to replace "O College Mother, Beautiful" with the "Matador Song" as official school anthem midterm graduation left the Student council with two vacant chairs, sending the voting portion of the campus to the polls once more women again came on the scene as the Association of Women Students staged an election of officers.

BIG DEALS

Homecoming called the prodigal sons and daughters to the campus, which many of them had trouble in recognizing Religious Emphasis week and the four-day Willson lectures offered the students a chance to partake of spiritual food, but most of them seemed to prefer coffee the greenish statue of Will Rogers and Soapsuds attracted new attention as the college and the nation celebrated the cowboy philosopher's birthday a group of students were convinced of the reality of inflation when they were forced to pay upwards of $500 for a Christmas tree which they borrowed from a local nursery.

CONTROVERSIES

The Toreador was charged with failing to keep the students informed about administration doings by Stewart Phillips, a senior engineer—rebuttal and counter-rebuttal filled the paper's "Backtalk" column for weeks the University of Arizona threatened to break the tie that binds, athletically, in answer to Tech's refusal to let a negro basketball player appear in the gym—the negro's scholastic ineligibility ended the furor a storm of student questions resulted from the Associated Press release that Tech was no longer recognized by the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities—the administration's haven in the turmoil was that it had not "received official word".

CELEBRITIES

Helen Traubel and Jascha Heifetz, slated to appear on Artists Course programs, both cancelled due to illness—the soprano finally showed up at a later date, but the fiddler, at last report, was headed for Europe Carl Sandburg displayed a classy bow tie and a love for West Texas Senator Robert A. Taft talked during one of the year's worst dusters—and avoided the mud-slinging that most of his audience was expecting.
